Torrential thunderstorms which led to massive flooding awoke many people early on April 18. A small group of CTPF members, though, arose at 4:00 a.m. not to mop up basements or survey damage, but to board a van headed to Springfield.

CTPF trustees organized a group of nearly 20 members who joined an effort which included the Retired Teachers Association of Chicago and the Chicago Principals and Administrators Association.

Together the groups planned a full day of lobbying efforts on behalf of the Fund. They traveled flooded highways to fulfill an ambitious agenda which included 23 meetings with individual legislators, time to listen to debate on the house floor, and a legislative reception in the evening.

During a long, but successful day, attendees discussed the need for the employer to uphold its obligation to CTPF and the importance of a stable post-

The dialogue on pension “reform” often leaves out one of the most important factors in the pension equation — economic activity. Dollars paid out to CTPF pensioners in Illinois stay in the state, generating jobs and economic activity.

CTPF’s Economic Impact Statement, The Buck Stays Here, illustrates the important role pension benefits play in local economic development. Members can download the report from the Education and Advocacy page at www.ctpf.org.

The economic impact study found about 90% of active CTPF members and beneficiaries — retirees, survivors and disabled members — live in Illinois, and half of those members live in Chicago. The study used standard economic multiplier calculations from the U.S. Department of Commerce Bureau of Economic Analysis to assess the impact that pension payments have on the economy of the State of Illinois and the City of Chicago. Pension payments, which are not tied to market returns, enable our retirees to spend — even in times of recession, providing an important economic stimulus.

retirement health insurance program which offers certainty for our retirees.

Certainty is something we once took for granted. Today, however, the environment has changed and the assumptions we once held no longer apply. We must help to create certainty by educating legislators so that we can ensure our financial stability and protect pensions for current and future members.

Our trip to Springfield was just one of many efforts, countless others took place throughout the past year. Our trustees have developed the Pension Fund Ambassador program to help educate members about pensions (see page 5). Earlier this year, CTPF hosted Pension Information and Education (PIE) meetings for the Illinois Black and Latino Caucuses. We’ve reached out to media outlets to share our message and to help educate reporters and editors. We’ve also been working to help share the message that CTPF pension dollars play a critical role in the Illinois economy – and our recently updated report, The Buck Stays Here, illustrates the impact that pension dollars have on the economy of Chicago and our state.

Unfortunately, the certainty of the past has been replaced with an uncomfortable, uncertain present. The best way to combat the uncertainty is to make sure you do your part to help educate lawmakers. I encourage you to join our educational online webinar, Pension FUNDamentals, oThursday, June 6 at 4:00 p.m. (see back cover for info), logon to our legislative action center at www.ctpf.org and sign up as an ambassador and send an e-mail, and download an information sheet for your legislator and deliver it in person to a local office. You don’t have to take an extraordinary measure and drive through a thunderstorm to deliver the message – but, you do have to take an active role in protecting your pension. Our 60,000 members taking small steps can make a big difference – your efforts can help bring certainty to our fund and ensure your financial future.

As of February 28, 2013, the approximate current value of CTPF’s investments was $9.7 billion.

CTPF Trustees organized a delegation which traveled to Springfield on April 18 to meet with legislators to help build support for CTPF’s 2013 legislative priorities. The delegation included representatives from the Retired Teachers Association of Chicago (RTAC) and the Chicago Principals & Administrators Association (CPAA). The group had 23 meetings with legislators and co-hosted an evening reception.

“This was an important opportunity for our trustees and retirees to meet with our Illinois legislators,” explained CTPF Board of Trustees Vice President and Pension Law and Rules Committee Chair Lois W. Ashford. “Our members shared important messages. One: our employer must pay its bills, and two: that stable funding for retiree health insurance is essential. We believe that having retirees and trustees in Springfield was an exceptional way to deliver those messages.”

Economic Impact by Legislators
CTPF also created individual information sheets for each Illinois state representative and state senator.

“To help our members educate Illinois lawmakers, we also examined the data to understand the economic impact that pensions have on each legislative district,” said Kevin B. Huber, executive director.

“For example, we now know that in the 13th district, Senator Kwame Raoul has 4,427 CTPF members, including 1,866 receiving pensions. These members received $99 million in payments from CTPF in 2012, which helped generate more than 1,081 jobs in this district.

“The bottom line is that our teachers are required to live in the city, and many stay after retirement. CTPF members contribute a great deal to the economic well-being of Chicago and the State of Illinois, yet, these contributions have been overlooked in the conversations about pensions.”

Members can download legislators’ information, fill in contact information, and share the sheet with legislators. Find more information on our Education & Advocacy page at www.ctpf.org. Pensions Matter — tell your legislators.
Kevin B. Huber, CTPF executive director, appeared on WTTW’s Chicago Tonight Tuesday, January 29, 2013, in a live interview with host Phil Ponce.

The conversation discussed how the employer’s “pension holidays” and a lack of state funding for Chicago’s teachers have caused our funded ratio to fall from 100% in 2002 to 57% in 2012.

Huber called for revenue reform and a guaranteed source of funding for CTPF as the foundation for any discussion of “Pension Reform.”

Crain’s Chicago Business Editorial

The interview on Chicago Tonight was prompted by Huber’s Editorial: Chicago Teachers’ Pension Fund: Learn from the past, which appeared January 24, 2013, in Crain’s Chicago Business online edition.

CTPF Trustees Vote to Divest from Assault Weapons

The Chicago Teachers’ Pension Fund Board of Trustees voted unanimously on January 17, 2013, to begin withdrawing all investments in retail assault weapon manufacturers.

“We are fiduciaries guided by the recognition that we act with the obligation to protect fund assets and minimize investment losses,” said Jay C. Rehak, president of the CTPF Board of Trustees. “We are sensitive to the significant reputational, regulatory and statutory risks that may impact the shareholder value of assault weapon manufacturers and want to minimize those risks to our investments.

“We are also teachers, in classrooms and schools every day, and many of us unfortunately understand all too well the tragedy of gun violence,” said Rehak. “In the last academic year, 319 Chicago Public School students were wounded by guns, and 24 died from gun violence. These aren’t just tragic statistics - these are our students.”

CTPF has approximately $9.5 billion in assets, which includes three investments in gun manufacturers. The total market value in companies which manufacture weapons is approximately $260,000, or .003 percent of the fund’s portfolio.

Dr. Carlos M. Azcoitia Appointed to CTPF Board of Trustees

Dr. Carlos M. Azcoitia was appointed to the CTPF Board of Trustees by the Chicago Board of Education. Azcoitia’s appointment fills the vacancy created when Rodrigo A. Sierra left the board. Azcoitia will serve the board through November 2013.

Azcoitia currently serves as Distinguished Professor of Practice in Educational Leadership at National Louis University. Azcoitia received his Doctorate in Education from Northern Illinois University, a Masters of Education from National Louis University, and a Bachelor’s degree from the University of Puerto Rico.

“We welcome Dr. Azcoitia to our board and look forward to a productive year,” said Executive Director Kevin B. Huber. “We also want to thank Mr. Sierra for his service to CTPF.”

CTPF Publishes 2012 CAFR and PAFR

Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR)

Each year, the Chicago Teachers’ Pension Fund (CTPF) documents its financial position in the form of a Comprehensive Annual Financial Report or CAFR. The CAFR offers more than 130 pages of detailed financial information designed to meet government reporting requirements. The CAFR includes audited financial statements, actuarial, and statistical reports detailing the financial position of the fund. The document can be downloaded at www.ctpf.org.

Popular Annual Financial Report (PAFR)

The Popular Annual Financial Report, summarizes the CAFR and offers a snapshot of operations at the close of the 2012 fiscal year, the fund’s 117th year of continuous operation. The PAFR offers a condensed version of the financial statements and a summary of operations, funding goals, and major initiatives. The PAFR was mailed to all members in early May.

Available Now

The Board of Trustees released the CAFR and PAFR during their April 25, 2013, meeting. Both documents can be found online at www.ctpf.org.

The bill requires the state to pay $173.8 million to CTPF in 2014 and to pay for normal costs of benefits earned from 2015-2059. The bill also requires a $196 million contribution from CPS in 2013 and requires CPS to make annual contributions to pay for the fund’s accumulated unfunded actuarial liability through 2059 or until funding reaches 100%.

6. Restore the CTPF property tax levy
   Summary: This measure restores the City of Chicago property tax levy for fiscal year 2013 and years following, so that CTPF has a guaranteed funding mechanism.

Pension Fund Ambassadors: Become a CTPF Ambassador and Share the Message

Pension Fund Ambassadors
A lack of State and Employer funding has drained resources from our fund. Pension Fund Ambassadors are working to speak up and reach out to help Illinois legislators understand that pension funding is vital, not optional.

CTPF Ambassador
The Pension Fund Ambassador program encourages our members to educate lawmakers and decision makers about the Chicago Teachers’ Pension Fund and the fund’s legislative priorities. We want legislators to understand the people behind the pensions, and to hear the facts about the fund straight from our members.

Ambassadors are already having an impact, sharing our message with legislators through our legislative action center and in person.

Join Today
More than 800 CTPF members have already signed up for the program and we’re hoping to welcome many more members.

Register today at our Legislative Action Center at capwiz.com/ctpf/home/ and you will automatically be enrolled as an ambassador.

Planning for the Gap

Members who plan to retire in June should plan for the “gap period” between their last paycheck and their first pension payment. Most June retirees can expect their first retirement payment deposited in September. The first payment will be retroactive to the retirement date and will include any additional refunds or payouts due from the fund.
